Provincial Circular EAP – MT.12 Aug 04, 2019

My dear Confreres,

Greetings of peace and joy on the feast day of St. John Maria Vianney! May his life and example always inspire our priestly ministry for the people of God!

CURÉ D'ARS

We are celebrating today the feast of St. John Maria Vianney (1786 – 1859), the patron of parish priests. He is a model for all priests not because of his brilliance nor of numerous writings. He did not found a congregation or some spiritual movements but bore simple witness by being a faithful, zealous and dedicated Parish Priest of the remote village of Ars. His sole aim in life was to love God and bring others to him.

Despite his poor academic performance, he overcame all the hurdles and became a priest in 1815.

Fr. Vianney became the parish priest of Ars in 1818 and remained there until his death in 1859. Ars was a small farming village of 230 people. Majority of them did not practise religion. Love and prayer were John Vianney’s guiding principles as a priest and as a man. He knew this assignment was not an easy one. As the son of a farmer, he understood these people. He reached out to them, talking about farms and the needs that accompany this way of life. He built relationships with them. As a priest, he lovingly challenged them in many ways. Over time, they would invite him to their homes to share a meal. Eventually, attendance increased at Mass and the Sacrament of Reconciliation found a restored place in the people’s hearts. For Vianney priestly ministry was nothing but revealing the loving Heart of Christ to others. Holy Mass and the Sacrament of Penance consumed most of the priest’s day, sometimes as much as 16 or 18 hours. But when there is pure zeal for the Lord in the heart, what things cannot be accomplished? Vianney knew success comes when all things are entrusted solely to the Lord.

His success, however, was not always met with admiration or appreciation. Few neighbouring priests complained that their own parishioners were going to him instead of them. But his humility did not allow him to worry about such matters. There is a story about how some clergy wanted to send a petition complaining of Fr. Vianney's work to Bishop. When Fr. Vianney heard about it, he said that he too would sign in it. In addition to the frequent objections and persecutions from those, including some of his fellow clergy, who did not like his pastoral work in Ars, he would experience great trials that tested his moral strength, his priestly ministry, and his spiritual core. It is said that when one embraces virtue, opportunities to practise it will abound. The life of St. John Vianney should encourage us to exercise our priestly ministry to reveal Christ to all despite discouraging moments in life as priests. His life calls us to examine our life as priests for Christ.

Pope Francis constantly encourages priests to be authentic to their vocation. On the feast day of St. John Vianney, it may be good to remind ourselves of Pope's understanding of priesthood which comes through his various exhortations from the beginning of his papacy. Please find below a summary of his vision of Priesthood:

1. The strength of a priest depends on his relationship with Christ. Pope Francis has said that the touchstone of how deeply a priest is living his vocation is the extent to which he seeks Christ in his daily life. For this to happen, the priest needs to continue to grow in union with Christ through prayer and intimacy.

2. Just as he must be close to Christ so the priest must also be close to the people he serves. In his first Chrism Mass homily, Pope Francis famously spoke of how priests must be "shepherds living with the 'smell of the sheep'".

3. As Pope Francis emphasized in the homily of his inaugural Mass, a priest's authority must be linked to service, especially to the care and protection of the poorest, weakest, the least important and the most easily forgotten. This means that priests have to leave their comfort zone and have "real contact with the poor and the marginalised."

4. The priest must be a minister of mercy. Pope Francis told a group of ten newly-ordained priests that the most important advice he could give them was simply, "Be merciful."

5. The priest is called to simplicity of life. He calls priests to commit themselves to a simple lifestyle. Pope Francis has repeatedly criticised priests who give in to vanity and worldly ambition.

6. The priest must be a model of integrity. There should be no room in the life of priests for haughty clericalism and any kind of abuse of their position. Pope Francis is calling and requesting priests to understand that their authority derives not from worldly power but from personal integrity and humility in imitation of Christ.

7. The priest is to be a source of blessing for his people. The anointing which he receives at his ordination is not meant just for himself – it is to flow through him to those he serves. Again to quote from the homily of his first Chrism Mass, "A good priest can be recognised by the way his people are anointed... when our people are anointed with the oil of gladness, it is obvious: for example, when they leave the Mass looking as if they have heard the good news."

8. The priest should be a genuine missionary at all times. In Evangelii Gaudium, Pope Francis proposes a profound missionary renewal of the entire Church. “I dream of a “missionary option,” that is, a missionary impulse capable of transforming everything (EG 27)” In his address to the 2016 assembly of the Pontifical Missionary Societies, Francis spoke of “the passion for God and for the mission of the Church”; He left his audience (and us) with a clear challenge: “We must grow in evangelizing passion!”

The life of St. John Maria Vianney and the teaching of Pope Francis challenge us to live our priestly and religious vocation genuinely amidst growing scandals and apathy towards priesthood and religious life.

Salesian Thought

The Lord expects of you nothing else than that you share in His mission, and what he demanded of the Apostles when He sent them into the world: to give life in its fullness to all (Jn. 10:10) (AE VI 89, Conf. 6).
